ANNIVERSARY FETE HELD LAST WEEK BY ORIENT CHAPTER

Grand Officers Attend Centerville Meeting On Wednesday

Orient Chapter No. 177, Order of the Eastern Star, met at a regular meeting and celebrated their anniversary, Wednesday, March 14, at the Masonic Hall in Centerville.

The regular business meeting was called to order by the worthy matron, Evangeline Muller. It being the chapter's anniversary, the past matrons, past patrons and charter members were honored. Fourteen past matrons and ten past patrons were present, including:

Mrs. Fern Mitte, Mrs. Ernest Martin, and Mrs. H. M. Kibby, of Niles; Mrs. Clara May and Mrs. H. Searles, of Decoto; Mrs. B. Brown, Mrs. Elva Wyatt and Mrs. A. T. Biddle, of Newark; Mrs. W. S. Robie, Mrs. Dora Richmond, Mrs. Ruth Hellwig and Miss Jeanette Richmond, of Alvarado; and Mrs. E. B. Hodges and Mrs. J. V. Goold, of Centerville, past matrons. H M. Kibby, of Niles; Henry May, Frank Hartman and Harry Searles, of Decoto; W. Wyatt, A. T. Bildle and Franklin Brown, of Newark; Erle Hellwig and E. A. Richmond, of Alvarado, and E. B. Hodges, of Centervile, past patrons.

Mrs. Emma Hellwig, of Mt. Eden, was the only charter member present.

A. T. Biddle, past associate grand patron of the Grand Chapter, State of California, Order of the Eastern Star, and a member of Orient Chapter was escorted and introduced. Distinguished guests present included Mrs. Ada Kaufman, worthy matron, of Encina chapter, Oakland; Mrs. Henrietta Christensen, worthy matron, and Charles Sorensen, worthy patron, of Hayward chapter, Hayward.

Following the meeting the members retired to the banquet room which was beautifully decorated in a green and white St. Patrick Day design. Delicious refreshments were served, including many birthday cakes, by Mrs. Lesla Brown, chairman and members of the refreshment committee.

An interesting program was enjoyed.

DEBTOR RELIEF TO BE SUBJECT AT FARM MEET

In continuation of the Washington High Night school discussion of problems of interest to the farmers of southern Alameda county, J. Stitt Wilson will speak on the "Economic Conditions of the Farmer and Debtor Relief." Meeting will be Monday night, March 26, at the Centervile High school.

An attempt is being made to get John G. Jury, of Berkeley, to come to the meeting to answer technical questions concerning the Farmers' Relief Act.

The high school meets on pertinent farm questions have been enthusiastically received in this region. Attendance at the gatherings has been steadily mounting.

SUNOL ARTISAN COMMENDED BY MRS. H. HOOVER

The talent that Marie Le Pleux, Sunol service station owner, has shown for creative work in pottery has brought her recognition before, and now it has brought praise from the former first lady.

Miss Le Pleux recently received a letter of commendation on her work from Mrs. Herbert C. Hoover. The circumstances by which Mrs. Hoover became acquainted with the artist's work are unusual.

Noticing that the driver of a car that stopped at her service station recenty looked strikingly like ex-president Herbert Hoover, Miss Le Pleux chanced to drop a remark on the resemblance. Much to her pleasure the gentleman stated that he was none other than the former president. Miss Le Pleux presented him with a piece of her pottery. The letter from Mrs. Hoover came shortly after, in appreciation of the gift.

ARRUDA HELD FOR SUPERIOR COURT ON DOUBLE COUNT

Killer Unperturbed As Evidence Points To Guilt

Sleek in appearance, smirking and winking at the attorneys, Manuel Arruda, confessed slayer of Joseph Bento and his son, Joseph, Jr., in a double shooting last September appeared Friday afternoon before Judge Allen G. Norris at the Centerville court, for the preliminary hearing.

Finding the evidence presented sufficient to conclude that murder had been done and that all indications pointed to Arruda as the killer, Judge Norris ordered that the defendant be held for the superior court on two counts.

Apparently unperturbed, Arruda was represented by Public Defender Willard Shea. Assistant District Attorney Charles Wehr represented the people.

Those who testified at the hearing were: Bento Leal, Dr. Appledorn, county autopsy physician ,and Deputy Sheriff Hugo Radbruch.

Arruda was taken in Massachusetts several weeks ago, after a nation-wide search had progressed for several months. He waived extradition and was brought to this county by Sheriff M. B. Driver.

Niles C. C. C. Boys Back At Camp After Vacation

Months in the mountains working in a Civilian Conservation Camp make vacations back home seem like the best kind of diversion, according to the several Niles boys who were home for a few days last week. Five boys all working in the same camp at Strawberry spent their vacations with their families. Monday was their last day at home. They entrained for the return trip to the camp Monday afternoon.

Those who were at home were: Raymond Murphy, J. Perry, Guido Tuana, Ray Crane and R. Denton. They will continue work at the camp for three weeks longer, according to Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Ellsworth and son, Vernon, drove to Berkeley Saturday morning.

NILES CHAMBER WILL AID IN PREPARATION FOR TOWNSHIP FAIR

Interest Mounting In Nature of Proposed Industrial Fair

Whole hearted co-operation in arrangements for the proposed Township Fair, sponsored by the Centerville Lions Club, seems to be the general aim of the Niles Chamber of Commerce after a discussion Monday noon.

President F. V. Jones, in telling the members of the purpose of the display, stated that industries in the vicinity of Niles seemed amenable to the idea. Jones, accompanied by Chick Santos, Lion president, last week made a preliminary survey of the local plants and business houses. The response was gratifying, Jones said. Dr. G. S. Holman, slated to speak to the Chamber Monday, was unable to attend the meet. In his absence Jones explained the general scope and purpose of the fair. The civic group will hold itself in readiness to render any assistance that may be asked of it.

Among several letters sent to the Chamber, read at the Monday meet, was a communication from the Monterey Chamber of Commerce, asking that the local body lend its influence and voice to securing a Home Loan Office for San Francisco. The letter stated that the loans were slow, when granted, and that many deserving applicants were being turned down. The fault was partially laid to the fact that the Home Loan headquarters were situated in Los Angeles and that too great an emphasis was being placed on loans being made there to the detriment of the rest of the state. R. B. Blacow, when called upon to give his opinion on the matter, stated that the Home Loan Bonds would continue to be spurned by creditors until provision was passed by the government whereby the principal as well as the interest would be guaranteed. Blacow said that the need for such loans in this district was negligible, and suggested that action be delayed pending further adjustment.

Gordon B. Liang, agricultural commissioner, was guest at the meeting. He was called upon to speak, and told the civic group of a survey recently completed of the rhubarb acreage in the county. Liang stated that 1475 acres of the red stuff have been set out. The survey was made to facilitate pro rate arrangements Liang lauded the Niles wild flower show, and remarked especially on the feasibility of a noxious weed display. In telling of troublesome weed pests, Liang said that recent investigations have proved the common mallow weed to be a carrier of mosaic streak disease in tomatoes. He advised a clean-up of this species of weed.

F. V. Jones told the group briefly of activities of the Anti Racket council, organized to combat organized crime in Alameda county. Jones will attend a meet of the council at the Athens club in Oakland tomorrow.

NURSERY DAFFODIL AND TULIP SHOW DRAWS THOUSANDS

Display Will Continue Until End of This Month.

Third annual daffodil and tulip show, being held at the California Nursey display gardens at Niles, has been attracting widespread notice throughout the State. Begun last week end and scheduled to end on March 31, the display has drawn thousands to the Nursery grounds.

According to California Nursery officials, the daffodil display will shade off into the tulip show this week. One hundred and five varieties of daffodils have been shown. A larger number of tulips will be shown as the varieties come into bloom.

Garden clubs of the San Francisco bay region have been making the nursery ground their headquarters during the show. On Tuesday clubs from Santa Clara, Mountain View and Palo Alto attended.

An entertainment, consisting of Spanish music and Spanish dances is being offered in the old adobe on Sundays.

PEA GROWERS SET PICKING PRICE AT SEVENTEEN CENTS

Committee Is Named To Handle Problems That Arise

Pea growers of Southern Alameda and Santa Clara counties set a maximum of 17 cents a hamper for picking and named a committee of five to be ready to handle any problems that may confront the growers of the district, last Thursday.

The action was taken at a mass meeting of pea growers held in the courtroom of Julge Allen G. Norris, in Centerville. Members of the committee appointed are: J. F. Perry, of Niles; Alviano Vargas, of Warm Springs; John Rose, of Milpitas; R. C. Kennedy of Hayward, and W. W. Curtner, of Milpitas.

After conferring with a number of pickers previous to the meeting last week, the growers discovered that the wage set was entirely satisfactory. Growers state that the prices fixed are the best possible under existing market conditions.

Sheriff M. D. Driver and Under Sheriff Frank Swain and Robert Hunter of the district attorneys office attended the meet and assured the growers cooperation in the event of any trouble that may arise from harvest conditions and wage prices.

Niles Man Unhurt In Accident Near Hayward

Joseph Delgado, of Niles, narrowly escaped injury Saturday afternoon ,when a tire on the car he was driving blew out. The car overturned after a long skid. The accident occurred near San Lorenzo junction. Neither Delgado, nor his grandmother, who was riding with him were injured. A bystander, attempting to right the car suffered a badly cut hand when he seized the edge of a broken pane of glass.

Frank Nunes Making Intensive Campaign

Frank Nunes, of Niles, candidate for election to the board of directors of the Alameda County Water District, is making a widespread campaign previous to the election. Nunes, well versed in the local water problems and widely acquainted here, is said to be meeting with encouragement.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hunt and family, of Whittier, arrived Sunday for a week's stay with Mrs. H. R. Hunt.

ADDITIONAL WATER RELEASE IS ASKED OF SAN FRANCISCO

Lack of Rain Perils Local Water Table, Declare Directors.

Lack of rain this spring and a rapidly receding water table, this week were the reasons for a special meeting of the water district directors, at which a resolution was passed to request an additional water release this year from the San Francisco Water department.

According to Will Patterson, board member, the district, is asking the additional award with confidence that the City of San Francisco will comply. In 1920, when the city was experiencing a dearth of water, the local district was asked to allow a portion of the district allotment. The courtesy was extended and the amount was paid back in 1927.

In similar need this spring, the ditrict is asking a return favor of the city.

The usual release is scheduled to begin at any time, according to Patterson, or as soon as the Federal Water Control authorities pass on it. The additional release will come as a continuation of the usual one.

'COT GROWERS WILL RECEIVE PAYMENT BEFORE TAX TIME

Association Votes Distribution to Grower Members by April

Pre-harvest worries for many Washington township apricot growers were relieved this week when the announcement came that the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association will made a substantial payment to its membership in advance of April taxes.

Many of them had pressed for ready cash, with which to meet taxes and to make preliminary preparations for the coming harvest, numerous growers will find the coming sum quite handy. Officials of the association stated that advance in apricot prices during the past few months has made possible the post-final payments.

Harry C. Dunlap, association president gave details on the smallest withdrawal experienced by the association since the inauguration of the annual withdrawal privileges five years ago. There were only 173 cases of withdrawals, Dunlap said, stating that the tonnage included by the withdrawals totals only 2 per cent of the association total.

NILES COUPLE WED AT CARSON CITY SATURDAY

After driving from Niles, Morrison Green and Miss Anne Gasperat were married at Carson City, Nevada, at noon Saturday by the Rev. Harry Pressfield.

Marshall Green and Miss Lorene Kearns, both of Niles, accompanied the couple as witnesses.

The party spent the week-end in Reno, and returned to Niles Sunday night.

Mrs. Green, who has made her home with Mrs. Fred Mitte for the last few months, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gasperat of Crockett. Green is the son of Mrs. Mitte. The couple plan to make their home in Berkeley.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

By NORMAN H. PARKS, Publisher Register

BRILLIANT EDITOR URGED TO ENTER CONGRESSIONAL RACE

Down in the Tenth Congressional District, comprising five counties of the central coastal area, of which Santa Barbara is the natural political center, we learn that George Lynn is being urged to become a candidate for Congress on the Democratic ticket.

Lynn has not yet consented to enter the contest, but the spontaneous and enthusiastic reception with which the voter has greeted the mention of his name in this connection, we hope will lead this brilliant young editorial writer and newspaper executive to enter the primaries.

The writer is interested in this news. While it is true the Tenth District is a long way from our home and political affairs, the congressman from that district represents the entire state on many matters affecting California and the nation. It is only the narrow-minded provincial representative in the Lower House who can never see beyond the selfish patronage of his own political machine. Lynn is an old acquaintance of the writer. He has progressive ideas, held in reasonable and sensible restraint by years of practical experience in everyday life. He is a man of his word. Slow to make a promise, once given it is carried out with meticulous exactness.

For several years Mr. Lynn has been managing editor of the Santa Barbara Daily News, one of the outstanding daily newspapers, not only of California, but of the United States. Political questions, ideas and formulas have been a constant companion of this really polished and capable editor. It has been a business with him to understand statescraft, sense the public trend of mind, and fathom the deception of crafty politicians who would exploit humanity for their selfish purposes.

He is a man of statewide reputation, held in respect wherever he is known, and his candidacy would offer the voters of the Tenth District an opportunity to have as their representative a congressman of great ability and vision.

Lynn is mentally and physically brave. We need brave men today. A man with a million means no more to him than the man who digs a ditch in the street. Both are men—human beings—and entitled to fair consideration. He treats all alike, though his natural tendency is to lean very far on the side of the man underneath.

Ruthless power does not impress him with awe; rather buoys him for combat. He believes that the welfare of humanity comes before the vaunted rights of vested interests.

Only now and then really smart, resourceful and courageous men break into Congress. As a rule big men are modest. The pigmy is the reverse, always the self-seeker, a trader of his word and his honor for votes, generally a liar and often a thief. He pushes himself forward, while an outstanding man remains diffident in the background.

We trust that the Santa Barbara editor will waive his personal disinclination to accept political leadership and listen with sympathy to the urge of his friends all over the State that he become the Democratic standard bearer in the Congressional contest now approaching a decision upon the field of conflicting political thought.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY WARNS OF FARM LABOR SURPLUS

With the number of agricultural workers in the county at the saturation point, word was received late last night from District Attorney Earl Warren that any further influx of workers into the region will be undesirable.

E. Flint, in speaking for Warren, stated that a survey has shown that there are sufficient workers at present to carry through the pea harvest. He stated that camp sites, in which there were the necessary sanitary facilities were lacking and that more workers would complicate the county labor problems. He advised that unemployed workers remain out of the district, lest they be disappointed in finding work.

The President's Salary

The President's salary has been changed only twice. An act of September 24, 1789, allowed George Washington a salary of $25,000 a year during his term of office. Another act dated February 18, 1793, fixed the salary of the President of the United States from and after March 3 of that year at $25,000. This law remained in force until the act of March 3, 1873, increased the salary of the President to $50,000. The act of March 4, 1909, raised it to $75,000.

Vatican City

Vatican City includes St. Peter's, the Vatican palace and museum, covering more than 13 acres, the Vatican gardens and neighboring buildings between Viale Vaticano and the church. Thirteen buildings in Rome, although outside the boundaries, enjoy extraterritorial rights; these include buildings housing the congregations or officers necessary for the administration of the Holy See.

Sherman on War

The saying "War is hell," is always attributed to him, but General Sherman himself disowned it, or failed to recall having said it. John Koolbeck of Harlem, Iowa, who was on the staff of General Winslow, testified he heard it from Sherman while the general was watching his troops cross a pontoon bridge at the River Pearl after the Battle of Vicksburg, in 1863.

Crime to Pay a Ransom

Technically it is a crime to pay a ransom. It is compounding a felony. Kidnaping is a crime against the state and any person who aids and encourages the crime by rewarding it with payment of ransom is guilty of law infraction. In practice, prosecuting attorneys wink at this crime because of the human equation involved.

Starlings Have Multiplied

In 1877 starlings were turned loose in Central park in New York, and again in 1887, but the colonies did not survive. Then in 1890 and 1891 starlings once more were turned loose in Central park and from these descended the myriads that now flutter and chatter from New York to Texas.

Reunion in Hollywood

BUSY with cold cream and a towel before his mirror, Stuart Booth hadn't noticed the dressing room door swing open. When the woman's voice sounded from just behind him, he started and turned quickly around. She stood there smiling at him, blonde and petite and well-dressed, an odd soft light in her gray eyes.

"Stu!" she cried. "It really is you!"

She came forward with outstretched hands and hastily Stuart Booth stood up, his blank confusion covered by a smile of professional courtesy.

"It seems too good to be true," she said ecstatically, and clasped the grease-covered hands he tried to withdraw. "They wouldn't tell me where you were, and I was so afraid I'd never find you in all this great place. Oh, Stu—it's simply marvelous seeing you again after such a very, very long while."

The tones were dulcet, vibrant. Booth stared down at her, striving for remembrance. She broke in upon his groping with a happy bubble of words:

"And to think, my dear, that you shouldn't have changed a bit! Why, I can see you right now as Romeo, in that beautiful green velvet cloak we chose together at the costumer's—remember?"

Her voice took on a wistful tremor as she added: "And—oh, how often I've thought of that—of the way I treated you afterward. Stu, if you still hate me I can't blame you, because I've never forgiven myself."

Slowly, by scraps, order began coming to Booth out of this amazing jumble. Romeo; somewhere, sometime, he had played an impassioned Romeo with this woman as his Juliet.

"Why—why, of course I don't feel that way," he stammered. "I—you'll have to forgive me if I seem a little surprised, and all that sort of thing. This is so—so sudden."

She nodded, soulful sympathy in her look.

"I know—" gently, "—I thought of that; that it might be a shock to you. But you see, Stu, for years after you left Cincinnati I was so ashamed of it all, and there was no way to reach you—to tell you, even by letter."

At last the full dawn was breaking on Booth's consciousness. Cincinnati—Romeo—and—and — Ruth Carver! There!—that was the girl's name, of course. Thirteen years ago—a production in the Little theater, with a summer's romance thrown in. More and more clear the recollection grew. A fervent little golden-haired actress who loved him with youth's first sweet passion; a sudden scorching quarrel, bringing separation and seemingly unbearable despair.

"My dear," he began. "I'd never have believed that—"

"Oh, don't!" Her interruption was quick and pleading. "I couldn't bear to have you tell me. Old wounds mustn't be reopened. Don't you see that, dear Stuart?"

"Certainly I understand, my dear, and I think you're absolutely right. Bygones should be—should be—well, bygones."

"Oh, that's so like you!" she cried, leaning nearer him. "But you don't have to be noble for my sake. Remember, I know everything you've been through. How I've suffered in realizing I shattered all your ideals!"

A little groggily, Booth wondered how much longer he could cope with the situation.

A long puff of smoke gave Booth some new steadiness. There was no reason, he told himself sharply, for such fol-de-rol. Here was simply a foolish woman—a woman he had quite forgotten years ago—who in some weird way had kept every illusion intact.

"Suppose I be very frank. You apparently just don't realize the true circumstances of this, and I—"

"Stuart," she asked, "do you know who I am?"

Ah!—thought he—something had finally shaken her. She at least was no longer so confident; she doubted that he could speak to her as he had started to unless he'd forgotten her identity. This was the moment for a final stroke.

"Certainly I do," he replied triumphantly, "you are Ruth Carver—Ruth P. Carver."

She sighed—a brief flutter of breath—and her eyelids drooped momentarily. Then she gave him her full look again and said:

"No—that's what I've come here to tell you. I saw in the papers that you were going to make a personal appearance tour, and would come to Cincinnati. My dear, I know so well how frail we mortals are. The resolve that put me out of your life might have weakened when you came that close again. But it must not be. Stuart, I am now Ruth Carver Luxford—Mrs. Mortimer W. Luxford. I shall pay for my folly of long ago by remaining a faithful wife. This is good-by."

She turned and in one swift glide was gone from the room. Stuart Booth felt vaguely for the bench, but sat down upon the floor instead.

Serpentine Mother of Asbestos

When the earth's crust first hardened into rock, millions and millions of years ago, some of the veins in the rock were filled with a stuff called serpentine. It is this serpentine which is the mother of asbestos. Mined from rock in Georgia and Canada, serpentine is ground up into soft white pulpy stuff which is very light and quite tough. The pulp is then broken up, cleaned and carded like wool for weaving into cloth.

U. S. Action Against Pirates

In the early part of the last century, the United States government took prompt and energetic steps to avenge any outrages against American shipping. A case in point was the Malayan ports, infested with pirates. American warships made frequent visits there and the American political agent visited the native states to arrange for trade.

SEETH PARKER 'Cans Around The World

PHILLIPS LORD, who created the radio character Seth Parker, is fulfilling a lifetime ambition by sailing completely around the world. Early in December, vast crowds on the historic wharves of Portland, Maine, Governor Louis J. Braun and the entire Maine Legislature which adjourned especially for the purpose, cheered the good ship "Seth Parker" as it set sail with its crew of twenty-five men for a year and a half of adventurous voyaging. Yes, set sail! For the vessel is a four masted schooner, a modernized reincarnation of the sailing ships that color the life of the fictitious "Cap'n Seth" and his seafaring friends.

A Varied Larder

While it retains the picturesque old beauty of the ships of other days, the "Seth Parker" is a marvel of modern equipment as far as its kitchen is concerned. In addition to the tons of fresh foods stowed in its hold it has no less than fifty-five different kinds of canned foods, including such vegetables as baked beans, beets, black eye peas, boiled onions, carrots, mixed vegetables, peas, red beans, red kidney beans, soaked limas, stringless beans, succotash and sweet corn.

The canned fruits include apple sauce, apricots, blueberries, cherries, peaches, pears, pineapple and sliced apples; the meats corned beef, corn beef hash and frankfurters; the fish canned sea food, codfish cakes and lobster; and the soups asparagus, celery, clam chowder, pea, tomato and vegetable.

In addition to these there are a varied assortment of necessities and luxuries in cans such as brown bread, condensed milk, coffee in vacuum packed cans, evaporated milk, French dressing, honey, horseradish, lobster spread, loganberry juice, mayonnaise, mincemeat, peanut butter, pickles, relish spread, tea, tomato juice and vegetable shortening.

Boston Baked Beans in Borneo

The expedition will need all these, for its itinerary, after leaving America, will include Trinidad, Rio, Buenos Aires, Capetown, Madagascar, Ceylon, Rangoon, Mandalay, Siam, Singapore, Java, the Dutch East Indies, Borneo, Bali, Australia, New Guinea, New Zealand, the Fiji Islands, Solomon Islands, Hawaii, the South Sea Islands, Galapagos and Panama. Then it will sail back up the Atlantic coast.

If, when in Borneo, the crew of the Seth Parker is seized with a longing for Boston Baked Beans, the ship's cook will then be able to produce them. And with them may be served real New England steamed brown bread, also ready at hand in a can. Or if, in far off Madagascar, they have a hankering for apple sauce of the kind that Mother Parker makes in her neat kitchen, their wish can be granted, once more from a can.

Thanks to modern canners the crew of the Seth Parker can feast in the farthest corners of the earth on delicacies, not to mention such necessities to health as the wide variety of fruits and vegetables that contain the all-important vitamins. And all of these edibles will remain fresh until opened in spite of time, temperature, wind or weather.

A Vast Difference in Diet

How amazed an able seaman who shipped before the mast in the old whaling days would be to see such foods appear at "mess." In one of the fascinating tales of life on the rolling deep in the forties, and fifties—"Wooden Ships and Iron Men" by Frederick William Wallace—we find the following description of the fare of that time:

"The usual fare was mouldy beef, salt-struck until it was as tough as leather, fat salt pork not fit for slushing the launching ways, hard bread or sea biscuit made of flour which had the flintiness of Portland cement, a beverage not exactly tea and not exactly coffee, which the men called 'bush grass and mahogany sawdust,' dried peas softened slightly by an enormous amount of soda, and a pea soup manufactured from gravelly. Molasses was used as a sweetener for everything. Gobs of boiled dough called 'duff' was a special treat once or twice a week."

After years of such a diet, sailors must indeed have felt that they deserved the name of "old salt." It was in those times, and after, that the British ships were called "lime juicers" because they were required by law to serve lime juice to the crew to prevent scurvy, as much a hazard to early sailors as icebergs and tropical monsoons. But now, thanks to the modern canning industry, the dread scurvy has been driven off the sea.*

SEEKS RELEASE AS CAVELL BETRAYER

Spy Denies Guilt in Case of British Nurse.

Paris, France.—Judas in the Nurse Cavell case, Georges Gaston Quien, French spy condemned as the betrayer of the martyred English woman, was informed at Clairvaux prison that plans for a retrial of his case have been definitely dropped.

Quien, whose death penalty from a French court-martial was changed to 20 years imprisonment, has been in Clairvaux since 1919. His 20-year term expires on October 26, 1938, unless the French government shortens it for good behavior. His jailers term him a model prisoner.

Brand Whitlock, former American ambassador to Belgium, was among the many who doubted that Quien was the actual betrayer of the nurse. They sought to reopen the case, but political complications were so great that lawyers definitely wiped their hands of the affair.

Still Has Hopes.

From officials of the Clairvaux prison it was learned that Quien had not given up hope for a new trial and that he had continued to protest his innocence. Troubled with rheumatism Quien declares that his imprisonment is causing intense suffering.

Until new information comes forward, the evidence brought out in the two weeks' trial in September, 1919, stands. Quien, aged forty at that time, was serving a term in jail at Saint Quentin when the Germans marched into the city in 1914. Released by the Germans, Quien remained behind the German lines as a civilian.

In 1915, at Londrecies, Quien learned of the "underground railway" which Nurse Cavell had developed for repatriating French escaped prisoners and civilians. Pretending to be a French officer, doctor and lawyer, and later posing as an embassy attache, Quien succeeded in mystifying Prince and Princess de Croy, who were collaborators of Nurse Cavell.

Through them he was sent to the institute of Miss Cavell in Brussels. Through her he was sent along the "underground railway" into Belgium, where he approached the French ambassador and asked for a mission as spy, or a job in the repatriation scheme. A few weeks later he was back in Brussels and was frequently seen with a member of the German secret police.

Returned to France.

He visited Miss Cavell again. The German, wearing a beard in disguise, stood waiting outside the door. A few hours later Miss Cavell was arrested and, with three others, condemned to death. Denounced in Belgium, Quien went to Westphalia, whereafter he was sent to a hospital and finally to Switzerland as an incurable sick man.

He could not fight the desire to return to France and crossed the border, where he was seized and sent to jail for six months on an old theft charge. Released from jail, he was sent to the French penitentiary troops in the Sahara, in southern Algeria. There he was rearrested in October, 1918, and brought to France to stand trial for betrayal.

The court-martial found him guilty and sentenced him to death, then signed a request for pardon in his favor. The principal fact of evidence against him was that the Germans arrested every one of the 20 people who harbored Quien in his voyage into Holland by the "underground railway." Quien has continued to protest that a man named Cavier was responsible but police never were able to find the Cavier concerned.

Court Admits Man's Will Signed by Fingerprints

Philadephia.—A will signed with fingerprints recently was admitted to probate here.

It was the will of Abraham Buckman, signed with three fingers of Buckman's right hand. A similar signature on file at a bank was used to verify the will.

"It was a most interesting case," said an official of the fingerprint bureau of the city hall. "The will was accepted for probate, and that very fact opens new fields for the elaborate system of fingerprinting we have in this country."

$8,000,000 to Be Spent in 18 California Forests

San Francisco.—More than $8,500,000 will be spent during the next two years for maintenance of 18 national forests in California and southwestern Nevada, according to S. B. Snow, chief of the federal regional forest bureau here. Used to purchase equipment and to pay wages, these funds will provide 1,500,000 "man days" of labor at a substantial wage for 150 days each, Snow said.

PENGUIN ODDITY OF LIVING CREATURES

Neither Whale, Fish, Seal, or Migrating Bird.

Washington.—Rear Admiral Byrd has been "officially welcomed" to the Antarctic region by the only denizens of this southernmost part of the globe that is not whale, fish, seal or migrating bird—the penguin.

"It is a fact that the penguin was once a true bird, that it can swim like a fish, has the agility of a seal under water, and that it puts on all the pompous airs of a whale. But still it is unique among living creatures, and explorers have long considered it the 'official greeter' of the Antarctic," says a bulletin from the National Geographic society.

Wings Are Water-Wings Only.

"The welcome Admiral Byrd received from the 'penguin committee,' while characteristic, was not effusive. When the penguins heard the barking of the sled dogs they unceremoniously dropped to their bellies and scuttled away over the ice, their flippers working like connecting rods.

"There are several varieties of penguins in the Antarctic regions, upon the islands along the fringe of the Antarctic seas, and as far north as the southern extremities of the South American and African mainlands. But the most entertaining of all is the Adelie, a species which has never been successfully transplanted from the snowy wastes of Antarctica.

"The Adelie resembles nothing quite so much as a solemn, rotund, little old gentleman with a prominent nose, starched shirt, and swallow-tail coat. His wings are water-wings only, although he goes through all the preparations for a take-off, with flippers outstretched, neck extended, and tail balanced to make a two or three-foot hop from one rock to another.

"This strangely manlike bird is truly an F. F. A. (First Family of Antarctica), tracing his lineage back to those far-away days of the earth's youth before the coming of the great glaciers. Then, in a temperate or perhaps even tropical climate, it is probable that his ancestors flew like other birds. But as centuries passed into ages and cold crept over the land, killing all vegetation, the penguins were forced to seek sustenance in the sea.

"The Adelie is a gregarious creature. In October and November (the Antarctic spring), he congregates, along with countless thousands of his kind, in great rookeries. There the age-old business of choosing a mate is his first consideration; but as with true love elsewhere, the course of his romance is not always smooth.

Great Lovers and Scrappers.

"Gentlemen penguins are not only good lovers, they are extremely pugnacious as well, and when more than one Romeo is attracted to the same Juliet, a merry fight is likely to ensue. With beaks and flippers they go for each other, delivering cuts and stabs and raining savage blows about them with such speed that the eye can hardly follow.

"If the fair object of all this excitement has a preference for one of the combatants, she may enter the fray on his side, but more often she will sit serenely by while her admirers do battle.

"An Adelie's nest consists of a loose pile of small stones, quite unadorned or softened with lining. The two eggs are kept warm by being enclosed in a deep crease in the thick feathers of the bird's body. Incubation lasts about a month, with both birds participating, for they have a strong parental instinct.

"When hatched, the chicks are little balls of sooty down, and they wear their baby clothes for some weeks before exchanging them for suits of feathers.

"Adelies live largely on a small, red shrimplike crustacean, which occurs in amazing numbers in the Arctic seas. There is little or nothing for them to eat on the land, and therefore until the chicks are fully developed, and able to take care of themselves in the water, they must be fed.

"The bogy man for baby penguins takes the form of a skua gull. This unpleasant bird conceives its mission in life to be the prevention of over-population among the Adelies, and woe to the unwary chick that wanders away from its comrades! A marauding skua will drop down beside it and, with a few savage blows of its strong beak, end the chick's earthly career and feast upon the remains."

Amador Alumni to Enter East Bay Tournament

Due to their splendid success in the basketball season this year the Amador Alumni team was selected as one of the eight best teams in the East Bay cities and was entered in the Tribune-Maxwell East Bay tournament which started Tuesday. All games of the tournament will be played at the University high school gymnasium in Oakland.

The team which is under the management of Ed Vervais, is made up of Alumni of the Amador Valley high school at Pleasanton. Out of ten games in succession they met with one defeat. They were defeated by an Alameda team Monday evening. Their defeat was due to the lack of substitutions as several of the players were ill.

Twenty-four crack teams were selected out of the East Bay for the tournament. Of the twenty-four the eight with the highest rating were given a bye. The Amador Alumni were one of the eight and did not play their first game until last Friday night.

Trophies will be awarded to the winning team and the runner-up as well as gold basketballs for the winning players and silver ones for the runner-ups. A team trophy will go to the winner of the consolation game as well as to the high scorer of the tournament.

The Amador Alumni played the winner of the Live Oak Druids-Asman Coal Co. This game started at nine thirty.

The teams entered in the tournament are as follows:

Martinez Lasell's, MacMarr Stores, Asman Coal, Berkeley First Presbyterian, Golden State Co., Ltd., Uarcos, Montgomery Ward, Richmond Produce, Salzbergers, Shopping News, St. Joseph's Sodality, Oakland First Presbyterians, Amador Alumni, Piedmont Community Sunday School, Burbank Evening School of Berkeley, San Pablo A. A., Athens Athletic Club, San Leandro De Molay, Live Oak Druids, Moller Barber College, Varsity Club, Zoin Lutherans, Oakland De Molay, and St. Francis De Sales.

Tree-Growing on Retired 3-A Land

Terms Provide Farmers May Plant for Woodlot, Windbreaks, Forest.

By L. E. Sawyer, Extension Forester, University of Illinois.—WNU Service.

Growing trees on land contracted to the government through the AAA wheat and corn-hog adjustment programs will prove more advantageous to farmers in many sections than crops planted on the same ground.

On a large majority of farms, where corn-hog and wheat contracts are signed, the less productive land will be removed from cultivation. Under the terms of the contract, such land may be planted to trees for woodlot, windbreak or forest purposes. This is a decided advantage to some farmers. It gives them an opportunity to establish the long-needed protection without reducing the area of the farm that is available for cultivation.

In many cases this less productive land will grow trees to better advantage than it will grow farm crops, even under more normal conditions. In the future such tree plantings will yield valuable timber crops, or they will aid in the control of erosion, or both.

Christmas trees, ornamentals and nursery stock are not permitted under the contract, but if wet, bottom land is removed from cultivation, trees which will mature in 12 to 15 years can be planted. Where taxes and carrying charges are not too high, these trees will often return a larger income at the end of the rotation than the landowner would have received from average crops of corn and wheat on the same areas. Thus, farmers may obtain reasonable returns in this manner from the contracted acres in addition to the government benefit payments.

Why Liquid Laxatives Do You No Harm

The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can thus be regulated to suit individual need. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The right liquid laxative will bring a perfect movement, and with no discomfort at the time, or afterward.

The wrong cathartic may often do more harm than good.

An approved liquid laxative (one which is most widely used for both adults and children) is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a prescription. It is perfectly safe. Its laxative action is based on senna—a natural laxative. The bowels will not become dependent on this form of help, as they may do in the case of cathartics containing mineral drugs. Ask your druggist for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Member N. R. A.

GARINTEES IN WIN OVER NINE FROM SANTA CLARA

Keeping well in their winning stride, the Garintees Sunday downed the Santa Clara Garin team by a score of 6 to 5. The game was played on the Centerville diamond. The Garintees' new uniforms, worn for the first time made the team one of the best appearing in the region.

With one man on base, Al Smith started the ball a rolling with a triple. The Garintees hitting kept up evenly all through the contest.

George King sealed up the game in the ninth when he swatted in the winning run. Al Silva, relieving Maciel on the mound late in the game, did some nice twirling. He also got one for one. Castro, right fielder, drew hitting honors with three for four. Maciel, during the first five innings gave only three hits.

Next Sunday the Garintees have made arrangements to play a return game with the Hayward Barbers at Hayward.

CENTERVILLE K. C. DEGREE TEAM IS POPULAR

Tentative plans this week call for the Centerville council degree team to make a scond trip tomorrow night to Magellan council at Oakland, to put on another first degree there, according to Ernest Pimentel, grand knight of the Centerville Knights of Columbus.

Pimentel stated that preliminary plans for the Easter communion will be discussed at the regular meeting at the parish hall tonight.

The pedro tournament started several weeks ago, is assuming larger proportions, the grand knight stated. He hinted that other fraternal organizations may be challenged in the near future.

HUSKERS WHITEWASH SAN MATEO 12-1 TUESDAY

Jess Regli's Cornhuskers gave indication of their league championship calibre Tuesday at San Mateo, when they downed the peninsula tossers by a 12 to 1 score. At no time were the huskers in danger of defeat.

Only in the third inning did the San Mateo boys come slightly to life, when they scored one run with three hits. They were shut out during the rest of the contest. Mederios, Husker pitcher for the first seven frames, yielded the hump to Wilson in the eighth and ninth.

'EAT-RUNNERS' HOAX SERVICE STATION ATTENDANT

Nursing a bruised forehead, and suffering the loss of two sandwiches, Carl Ackerman, service station and coffee stand owner, is this week wishing that he had never seen two dusky gentlemen who drove into his station Saturday evening.

The two negroes, after ordering and consuming two fat sandwiches, told Ackerman that their car had a serious mechanical ailment, and asked if he would direct them to a garage. Ackerman agreed, and keeping the gobbled and unpaid-for- sandwiches in mind, climbed on the running board to accompany the gentlemen to the Madruga garage. After the car had rolled a short distance, one of the culprits reached out and "socked" Ackerman between the eyes. He fell from the car, as the negroes whirled the car around and headed back toward San Jose.

Ackerman immediately notified Tom Silva and Frank Madruga, who toured the highway in search of the eat-runners. No trace was found.

Centerville Lad Hurt In Saturday Accident

Turning around in the middle of the block in front of the MacMarr store Saturday, the automobile driven by Miss L. Wells, of Centerville, was struck by a car driven by Richard Pine, of Niles.

The Wells machine was overturned. A small brother of Miss Wells, who was riding with her at the time, was pinned beneath the car. He was unconscious at the time the car was removed from him and his condition was considered serious. It later developed that he was only bruised.

St. James Pedro Kings Triumph Over Opponents

Determined to retain their pedro championship through all hazards, John Lowman and Floyd E. Parks, members of the St. James Men's Club and champions of that organization, will again defend their title tonight when they enter the fourth game of the present series.

Last Thursday Lowman and Parks scored decisive wins in five straight games, in spite of planned and crafty opposition.

The Country Newspaper

Turning from city newspapers to small town press exchanges that come to the editor's desk is like stepping from the slums, full of vice, into an old-fashioned garden sweet with lavender and thyme and the scent of perennial flowers. The pages of big dailies are so full of murder, thievery, immorality and selfishness that the better news is obscured by these glaring shatterings of the Decalogue. One puts the papers aside with a feeling of depression and heartache that the world is so full of terrible and unhappy things.

Then picking up the papers that record the happenings of the little towns around us, one gains renewed faith in life. Here are set forth only that which uplifts a community—the activities of the business men, the church items, the happy social gatherings of the people, the marriages, births and deaths, farmers' items, and all the thousand and one daily occurances that make up the simple annals of the great common people, who are really the foundation of this broad country of ours.

Sometimes people speak lightly of the country newspaper, but it is one of the most potent and uplifting factors in our national existence.—Christian Science Monitor.

NORMAN H. PARKS
Publisher

Published Every Thursday

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Niles, California, under Act of Congress March 3, 1879.

Determined a Newspaper of General circulation by decree of the Superior Court (Department 6), of Alameda County, California.

Subscription price $2.00 per year.

Former Publisher of Press Is Song Writer

Old days of Washington township, and the history of the fourth estate here were recounted to Norman H. Parks on his recent trip to the southern part of the state when he stopped off at the office of the King City Rustler and visited for a time with Fred G. Vivian, former publisher of the old Washington Press, when it was published in Irvington.

Vivian, now pubisher of the Rustler, has slowly fostered a diversion from his editorial duties—that of song writing—unitl it is now turning him many a welcome dollar to tide over the depression period. Recently he wrote a song for the Monterey county schools for which he received $20.

Mr. Vivian said that he received very substantial and liberal support from W. H. Ford in his first newspaper venture in Washington township.

WIFE BEATER GIVEN NINETY DAY TERM IN COUNTY JAIL

Pleading guilty to a charge of battery brought by his wife, Jose Morilla, of Niles, was sentenced to ninety days in the county jail, Friday afternoon, when he appeared before Judge J. A. Silva at the Niles court house.

Morilla was arrested recently when he returned to Niles after an absence of several months. He is said to have gone to his wife's home on Vallejo street and struck her.

Twice previously Morilla has been in trouble on similar charges. He was sentenced to twenty days in the county jail for battery in 1932. During that same year he was charged with the more serious misdemeanor of failing to provide for minor children.

"DINNER AT EIGHT" WITH MANY STARS COMING TUESDAY

With a gathering of more real stars than any picture to date, "Dinner at Eight," hailed as one of the greatest pictures of all time, comes to the Hayward theater Tuesday night, March 27, for a three-day run. Marie Dressler, Lionel and John Barrymore, Wallace Beery, Jean Harlow, Lee Tracy, May Robson, Edmund Lowe, and many other stars share the screen in this highly entertaining picture.

Tonight is the last showing of "Carolina," with Lionel Barrymore, and "The Big Shakedown," with Charles Farrell and Bette Davis.

Friday and Saturday comes Marion Davies and Bing Crosby in "Going Hollywood." Some of the season's best songs come from this picture. Kay Francis and Ricardo Cortez add to the bill in "The House on 56th Stret."

"Massacre," the story of a full blooded Sioux, who sees and understands the troubles of his people is on the screen Sunday and Monday. Dick Barthelmess is the star. Otto Krueger in "The Women in His Life" is an added feature.

Open Democratic Meet Saturday at Berkeley

Planned with the purpose to offer something constructive to the voters of California, the Alameda County Democracy and the Seventh Congressional District Democratic Committee are sponsoring an open democratic meeting to be held in the Veterans' Memorial Building, Berkeley, Saturday evening, March 24, at 7:30 p m. The Veterans building is located at Center and Grove streets. Dinner will be served at the True Blue Cafe, Center street, at 6:00 p. m., prior to the meet.

Among the speakers slated to appear are: Justus S. Wardell, Prof. Max Radin, Avery C. Moore, Charles H. Spinks and several others.

Mrs. Mary King, of Niles, entertained a number of guests at her home Sunday. Those who enjoyed the day were: Miss Aldina Perry, of Sacramento, Mr. and Mrs. George Manrow, and children Jean and Alfred, of Oakland, and A. Smith, also of Oakland.

SHRINE CLUB WILL MEET WEDNESDAY AT OAKLAND

Southern Alameda county Shriners will make merry on Wednesday evening, March 28, at the Fritz cafe in Castro valley.

Invitations have been extended to all Shriners residing in the south end of the county. Entertainment will follow a business session, acocrding to Hans Vejby, secretary of the club. Nels Nelsen is taking an active part in sponsoring the affair, assisted by Hans Hansen, Pleasanton, and Vincent Strobel, Hayward.

A group of Oakland Shriners is expected to attend, representing Aahmes Temple. The Shrine club is composed of members of the nobility residing in Livermore, Pleasanton, Sunol, Niles, Centerville, Newark, Irvington, Alvarado, Decoto, San Leandro, Hayward, San Lorenzo and Castro Valley.

CONGREGATIONAL YOUNG FOLKS PLAN PARTY

"Paul, the Man who Touched the Peaks," will be the sermon subject used Sunday morning by the Rev. Mr. Wesley Gordon. St. Paul developed a technic for penetrating the world of sense into the world of spirit, where "divine harmonies" are based. The great Saint wrote a manuel of this technic which we have in the form of his letters in the New Testament. You will be interested, the minister says, in hearing once again, possibly in a new way, of the man who said, "I know in whom I have believed."

The Christian Endeavor held its first regular meeting last evening. The society will meet regularly every Sunday night at 7:00 o'clock. From all indications it will be an extremely lively and profitable organization. Friday night, March 24, the young people will hold a party in the church playroom. Games, songs, jokes, and al other refreshing things young folks like, will be offered as entertainment—plus delicious refreshments. Every young person in the community is cordially invited.

Attendance at the Mission Grammar School Increased

Reduced last year when the attendance fell, the Mission San Jose Grammar school teaching staff has been built up to normal this year. The daily attendance has increased twenty pupils this year, according to Principal E. B. Hodges.

Mrs. LaVerne Dickerson, who taught at the school before the necessary cut was made, is back with her classes.

Hodges stated that work on the buildings and grounds is pending approval.

Personal Items

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Fournier entertained fifteen guests Sunday. Dinner was served. The guests were: Mrs. Fournier's mother, Mrs. W. A. Stribey, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Bennett and family, of Oakland. Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Bennett, of Niles, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Babcock, also of Oakland.

It's the EXTRA service that makes Automatic Gas Water Heating worth having

Gas costs so little when modern appliances are used. For example, an automatic gas water heater will provide hot water for shaving for fifteen mornings at a cost of one cent.

SO OFTEN in so many homes the service hot water can give is limited to meal-time kitchen use, once a week laundry use and the bath times for the family.

But modern homes and modern living demand full, all-of-the-day service of hot water automatically on tap. Hot water must render Extra Services. This is the day of gayer, lighter colored children's clothing that require almost daily washings. Silk stockings and lingerie that keep fresh and wear longer for the daily rinse in warm sudsy water. Linoleum floors, painted woodwork, tile floors—all need the preserving care of warm water cleaning.

Home economists tell us that the average home of today needs the on-tap service of hot water 150 times a day. There is but one way to have such hot water service. It is with an automatic gas water heater that keeps water stored hot within a heavily insulated tank.

Have you thoroughly gone into the details of how little a modern automatic water heater costs? Learn the facts. See your gas appliance dealer or consult a representative of this company.

Amador Dons Are Defeated By Hayward Farmers

In a practice game which showed considerable improvement over the game played two weeks ago, the Amador Dons were defeated by the Hayward high nine in a baseball game played at Hayward March ninth, by a score of six to one.

The Dons played better baseball than in the first game. Prospects are that the Dons will turn out a fairly good team, after the boys learn all the points in baseball. Cintrone, Peters, Dutra and Bernard are the hustlers of the game while the others are a little slower.

This lack of speed will be noticed when the Dons enter league play, however, the individuals will gradually overcome this. The South Alameda County League is considerably faster than the Berkeley and Piedmont leagues. Centerville will likely take the championship without much opposition this year.

The one run scored by the Dons was made in the fifth innning when Moller hit safe to first. He stole to second, and after two men flew to the outfield, Peters brought Moller in on a hit. Hayward scored their runs in the second, third, fifth and sixth innings.

Dutra pitched the first three innings allowing three hits and no walks; Paulo pitched the last four and allowed three hits and one walk.

Amador Alumni Are Defeated By Alameda Five

In a close and exciting game the Amador Alumni basketball team was defeated by the Alpha Pi Beta Fraternity, of Alameda, at the Amador gym Monday eveninf, March 12, by a score of 21 to 18.

Both teams played on fairly even terms. This was one of the fastest games played this season. The Alameda team had ten players with which they made frequent substitutions while the Amador team had but one substitute guard. The starting lineup was compelled to play the entire game which was largely due to three point defeat.

Excellent shooting was displayed by Bob Silva who was fortunate in ringing the basket with a number of long shots. King and E. Vervais did some close guarding. Silva was high point man for the evening with fourteen.

The lineup for the Pleasanton team was Silva, f, 14; George, f, 6; Powers, c, 4; King, g, 5; E. Vervais, g, 1; and Soito, g, 1.

Here's Change of Color

The change in color from brown to white in the fall and back again in the spring, characteristic of the varying hare, is accomplished by moulting the old coat and growing a new one. Should a patch of hair be forcibly removed from one of these animals in the middle of a season, the new hairs grown to cover the spot thus made bare will be of the color of the coming season's coat.

Copperhead Snakes

Copperhead snakes strike without warning. They hear acutely, and often lie in wait under a stone, in a position to strike. Even the smaller reptiles, not over eight inches long, are capable of dealing death. They are extremely quick and agile, camouflaged so they are difficult to detect among leaves and stones, and they rarely retreat when approached.

"Shooting Stars" Dissolve

Very few of the "shooting stars" that are observed ever fall upon the earth. Most of them are completely consumed by frictional heat and dissolved into gases during their rapid flight through the air. Those that do occasionally reach land in solid form do so in the form of blackened masses of stone or metal.

Mexico and the Tomato

In many lands the appetizing tomato is a favorite food—nowhere more than in Mexico. There is a quaint custom in San Antonio de Bexar of gathering around the famous chile stands of Hay Market Plaza and tasting the strange and spicy dishes blended with meat, tomatoes and seasonings.

The Secret

The secret of Mexican cooking lies in the unhurried blending of foods, and many American housewives are learning the art. While they are not willing to grind their own peppers and stand long hours peeling tomatoes, they have learned that canned tomatoes, prepared peppers and spices with meats make delicious dishes if they are allowed to simmer or bake slowly. Here is a savory suggestion:

Mexican Pie with Rice Cover: Chop fine one onion, one sweet red pepper and one green pepper. Sauté in three tablespoons fat for about three minutes. Add one finely minced clove of garlic, one and one-half cups canned tomatoes, one teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon celery salt and a few grains of pepper. Add the contents of one 12-ounce can of roast beef which has been cut in pieces. Pour into a baking dish, cover with seasoned cooked rice, and sprinkle buttered crumbs over the top. Bake for fifteen to twenty minutes in a hot oven—400 degrees. This serves six persons.*

ELECTION PROCLAMATION

IN THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF ALAMEDA, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, REGULAR SESSION, TUESDAY, MARCH 6, 1934.

RESOLVED, that whereas the County Clerk of said County of Alameda has duly certified to this Board the list of candidates nominated for the office of director of the Alameda County Water District, said District being situated wholly within the boundaries of said County of Alameda, as required by the Act of June 10, 1913, designated as Chapter 592 of the Chaptered Laws of 1913, as amended, and it appearing to this Board that said certificate is in proper form and that said candidates have been nominated in the manner and within the time required by said Act, it is now

ORDERED, that an election be held on Tuesday, the 27th day of March, 1934, within said District, for the election of five directors of said District, and said election is hereby called and set for said time, and it is further

ORDERED, that the voters at said election shall be required to cast ballots for the office of director of said District, and that the number of directors to be then elected shall be five; that the ballots to be used at said election shall be substantially in the following form:

GENTRAL DISTRICT ELECTION, ALAMEDA COUNTY WATER DISTRICT, MARCH 27, 1934.

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS: To vote, stamp or write a cross (X) opposite the name of the candidate for whom you desire to vote. To vote for a person whose name is not printed on the ballot, write his name in the blank space provided for that purpose. All marks otherwise made are forbidden and make the ballot void. If you wrongly mark, tear or deface this ballot return it to the inspector of election and obtain another.

For Director vote for five.

Emanuel George, Incumbent
Dr. E. M. Grimmer, Incumbent
Geo. P. Lowrie, Incumbent
Frank C. Nunes
W. D. Patterson, Incumbent
J. C. Shinn, Incumbent

A half-inch square shall be provided at the right of the name of each candidate wherein to mark the cross and half-inch spaces shall be left below the printed names of candidates for each office equal in number to the number to be voted for, wherein the voter may write the name of any person or persons for whom he may wish to vote. It is further

ORDERED, that said election shall be conducted in accordance with the general election laws of this state in so far as the same are applicable, and in accordance with the provisions of said Act of June 10, 1913, as amended (all references to said Act are to said Act as amended), and no person shall be entitled to vote at such election unless he shall possess all of the qualifications required for elections under general election laws of this state. It is further

ORDERED that the County Clerk and ex-officio Clerk of this Board be, and he is hereby, directed to cause notice of said election to be given by publication of this proclamation in The Washington News and in the Township Register and in the Southern Alameda County News, newspapers of general circulation printed and published in the said County Water District, such papers having been designated by the Board of Directors of said Alameda County Water District, for two successive weeks next before the day of said election, together with a list of the candidates nominated as required by said Act and the offices then to be filled, to-wit:

Emanuel George, George P. Lowrie, W. D. Patterson, Dr. E. M. Grimmer, Frank C. Nunes, J. C. Shinn, the offices to be filled at such election, to be five directors of said Alameda County Water District.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that said election shall be held from the hour of six o'clock A. M. of said 27th day of March, 1934, when the polls will be open until the hour of seven o'clock P. M. of said day, when the polls will be closed; that from six o'clock A. M. of said day until seven o'clock P. M. of said day, the polls will be continuously open.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that for the purpose of said election the election precincts and polling places therein shall be as hereinafter set forth. The designation of the polling place in each precinct will hereinafter follow immediately after the description of the precinct.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that the officers of election for said election shall be as hereinafter set forth. The designation of the officers of election for each precinct will hereinafter appear immediately following the designation of the polling place for the precinct. There shall be six (6) election precincts within said District for said election, and the same are hereby established and defined as follows:

STREAMLINED TRAIN DRAWS HUNDREDS OF SPECTATORS

Niles experienced one of the worst traffic jams in its history Monday evening, when hundreds of people crowded the station plaza and the railroad right of way to view the Union Pacific steamlined train.

A long maroon and cream colored bullet, the—new train—whipped into view several minutes after the time schedule. Although not announced to stop in the Niles yards, the train paused for several minutes at the station, thus allowing the spectators an excellent view.

Hundreds of Washington township people went into Oakland Tuesday to inspect the train there, when it was opened for public inspection.

CAMP FIRE GROUPS CELEBRATING BIRTHDAY

National Campfire Birthday week, this week, has been a time of general recognition of the value of the Camp Fire Girl organizations all over the United States. According to latest statistics there are 250,000 girls in the country receiving the fundamentals of right thinking and firm citizenship.

The Niles Camp Fire group, under the guardianship of Mrs. J. E. Townsend, has not been idle. Plans for the coming months reveal an ambitious program.

The Tinega group recently held a swimming test at the Lakeside pool in Oakland, Rosalia Harrold and Katherine Rathbone passed the "fish" test. Eleanor Harrold attained the "pollywog" standing and Barbara Kibby the "frog." Dramatics is also engaging the Tinega girls. They are studying the history of drama.

The Gemewaunce group, aside from studying the lives of a number of great men, will hold their swimming test tomorrow night at the Lakeside plunge. The test will be under the direction of Miss Evelyn Rose.

The Fire Fly and Blue Bird groups enjoyed a hike last Wednesday afternoon. Dinner was eaten about an open fire. Songs and games filled out the evening.

The Camp Fire calendar for the next few weeks:

March 27—Mrs. J. E. Townsend and Miss Muriel Fournier will attend a dinner in Oakland to hear L. A. Harper National Camping committee chairman talk on leisure and cultivation of hobbies.

April 6-7—Camp Fire institute week, at the Whitecotton hotel in Berkeley.

May 26—Grand Council Birthday Fire, to be held in the Greek Theatre, at Berkeley.

The Camp Fire Mothers' Association will meet Monday evening a t7:30 with Mrs. Jack Williamson. All mothers are urged to attend.

PLEASANTON BOY DOES STUNTS IN AIR EXHIBITION

James Trimingham, manager of the Pleasanton Service Station, took part in an exhibition of stunt flying at the Oakland Bay Airdrome at Alameda recently.

This was the first time that Trimingham had attempted stunt flying. First he was taken up in the air three thousand feet by his teacher and was told what to do through the different maneuvers. Immediately following he went up alone and went through the maneuvers in excellent form. The different maneuvers he did were ribbon cutting, three tailspins, about four loop the loops, and demonstrating a perfectly taking off and landing.

According to instructors present this was one of the best exhibitions given by any student in the flying field. Trimingham has been taking flying lessons for some time. He is a graduate of the Stanford University and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Trimingham, of Sunol.

Pleasanton Lodge Makes Plans For Official Visit

At a meeting held at the Odd Fellows' hall at Pleasanton recently members of the Pleasanton Druids Circle made plans for the official visit of the grand arch Druidess who will visit the Pleasanton Circle next month.

Following the meeting refreshments were served. Those acting as hostesses were: the Mesdames Annuncata Fracisco, Joseph Vizzolini and Eugene Doucette, of Pleasanton.

Monday evening the women held a joint meeting with the Druids Grove.

OAKLAND A.C. BEATS NILES SUNDAY BY WIDE MARGIN

The Oakland Athletic club nine proved to be eleven runs too much for the Niles C. of C's. Sunday when the latter was able to stir up only one run for the benefit of the home supporters. The final tally was Oakland twelve, Niles one.

Bill Dargitz, former Centerville moundsman, started the game on the hump for Niles. He was touched for seven hits and seven runs in four innings, after which he was relieved by the old standby, Ray Duarte, who was tickled for five bingles and seven runs before the final whistle.

Sparky Mederios among all the Niles batsmen, led the day's hitting with three out of four. Jim Cull, second sacker came through with two in four tries. Niles had previously beaten the Oakland club by a tally of ten to eight.

The southern Alameda county B league is slated to begin on April first.
